

MUSIC HAPPENS HERE ▶

This unique music program highlights musical hotspots in cities around the world, combining live events, video content, playlists and exclusive getaways for Hilton Honors members to discover and explore.

© Mapbox, © OpenStreetMap

- | | | | |
|--------------------------------------|----------------------------------|----------------------------|------------------|
| A Bad Animals Studio | D Greenwood Memorial Park | G OK Hotel | J Pier 49 |
| B Dick's Drive-In | E Sick's Stadium | H The Music Bank | |
| C First Congregational Church | F Kusanagi House | I DoubleTree Suites | |

ABAD ANIMALS STUDIO

For major music artists in the 90s, no trip to Seattle was complete without stopping at this world-class recording studio, resulting in some of the decade's biggest hits.

2212 4th Ave,
Seattle, WA 98121

BDICK'S DRIVE-IN

Which thrifty hip-hop star shot a music video on the rooftop of this Seattle fast-food joint causing chaos and cops in the streets?

115 Broadway E,
Seattle, WA 98102

CFIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

In 1960 a pair of talented sisters' first-ever performance would scandalize the congregation of this Seattle church, setting the pair on the road to stardom.

NE 8th & 108th Ave NE,
Bellevue, WA 98004

DGREENWOOD MEMORIAL PARK

What guitar icon was originally buried in a simple grave outside Seattle until funds were raised to build a marble memorial befitting his legacy in the heart of the city?

350 Monroe Ave NE,
Renton, WA 98056

ESICK'S STADIUM

Find out which future guitar god watched The King of Rock & Roll in concert from a hilltop vantage point because he couldn't afford a ticket.

2700 Rainier Ave S,
Seattle, WA 98144

FKUSANAGI HOUSE

Burnt out from touring, what EDM band would retreat to idyllic Bainbridge Island to recharge and record their next album?

Bainbridge Island,
WA 98110

GOK HOTEL

To cover expenses for a road trip to record their first album, a groundbreaking grunge band would gig at this former historic hotel and premiere a song that would define all of Seattle music for the rest of the 90s.

212 Alaskan Way S,
Seattle, WA 98104

HTHE MUSIC BANK

Tucked under the Ballard Bridge, this music studio was the rehearsal space for a band that would be the forerunner of the grunge sound, putting Seattle firmly on the music map.

1454 NW 45th
Street Seattle, WA

IDOUBLETREE SUITES

A decade after topping the charts in the 70s, a girl-powered rock group would reinvent themselves in this airport hotel.

16500 Southcenter Parkway
Seattle, WA 98188

JPIER 49

Torn down in 2008, this was the site where a trailblazing grunge band performed in a run-down warehouse for the seminal GenX movie, "Singles."

2431 E Marginal Way
S Seattle WA 98134

GET SOCIAL & SHARE YOUR MUSIC MOMENTS#MUSICHAPPENSHERE*HEAR THE STORIES & MUSIC BEHIND THESE PLACES

auction.hiltonhonors.com/musichappenshere

